THE ROBINSON STORY

We Need Higher Hopes

Be sure to read the Robinson family's story and discover how their efforts created a home school that actually needs no teacher and is extraordinary in its effectiveness.

"Ten years ago Laurelee and I decided to educate our children in a home school rather than a public school or a private school. The burden of this decision fell most heavily upon Laurelee who took responsibility for the substantial work that we expected this home school to require." [CONTINUED...]>

A UNIQUE APPROACH

Self Teaching Works

One of the most important responsibilities you have as a parent is to teach your children to think and to learn by reading books. Most of us were taught with a teacher at the front of the room, using textbooks and workbooks.

The Robinson Curriculum shows you how to set up a self-teaching home-school where the best minds in history teach your children through books. When your child is able to learn from books, the world is at their feet; anything they want to learn, any field they wish to enter, is open to them.

Experienced home-schoolers know that the secret to success is to avoid curriculums that impose a group school methodology on their homeschool. Instead, they leverage the Robinson methodology to achieve results far superior to "teacher-centered" curriculums.

Many homeschool children are still taught with a teacher (Mom) at the front of the room and a workbook in their hands as if they were still in a group school. Your children deserve better. Choose the curriculum that was made for student-centered learning; where the parent spends as little as 15 minutes per day and the children achieve superior results. Give them a self-teaching methodology with superior academic standards and the best books in the English language. Choose the Robinson Curriculum.

I love it because my girls really are becoming self taught, my 12 year old having literally educated herself this year.
